

LAURA CSORTAN

Laura Csortan began her career as both Miss Universe and Miss World Australia and has become one of Australia's leading television presenters.

Laura travelled the world with Network Seven's, The Great Outdoors. She then co-hosted the internationally acclaimed Wheel of Fortune and continued her passion for travel as a presenter on Network Nine's, Holidays for Sale and Qantas Destination Guides.

Laura hosted Discovery Channel's, Worlds Best Beaches and fronted BBC's six part series Massive Nature, Racing Today and Good As Gold, all for Network Seven.

Originally from Adelaide, Laura gained certificates in Outdoor Leadership as a fitness trainer before completing a Bachelor of Applied Science in Sport and Recreation Management majoring in journalism.

Laura supports the National Breast Cancer Foundation and is an ambassador for the Cancer Council's 'Girls Night In'.
